Seeking Wisdom

I wonder has Google become the most important authority in our lives? It seems to me that our traditional places for seeking wisdom, guidance and authority have been usurped by Google. In a world that likes the do it yourself approach Google provides easy access to a world of helpful information (e.g. politics, religion, health and perhaps most important of all shopping).

A social researcher, Siva Vaidhyanathan, recently described this phenomena as the "Googlization of Everything". By this he pointed out the way the word "Google" has crept into the English language as a verb that means to do an internet search. You might have heard yourself say "I'll just Google that!" I'd be surprised if I heard you say "I'll just Bing that" or "I'll just Yahoo that". What you may not be aware of is of all the millions of searches made on the internet every day 86% are made on Google. Their nearest competitor Yahoo is a distant second on 4%. Just think what power this gives to one company to influence our lives and the lives of our children.

Did you also know that Google learns about you? It learns what you like to buy, what your interests are, how old you are, and which cereal you like for breakfast. Why? Because to Google your not their customer you are their product! Google makes money not from you but from those companies that advertise with them. The more it knows about you the better product they can offer their customers and the more they can influence your choices. Just ask yourself "How often do I look past the first few results on Google let alone checking the next page?"

Can I suggest that one of the most important things you can do in this information age is help your children be informed. Don't let Google teach your children to be good consumers. They must grow up learning that their value is not to be found in what they can buy! That is the path to frustration, depression and dissatisfaction.

Easter is a wonderful opportunity to remind ourselves and our children of why we are valuable. The story of Jesus reminds us that our value as humans is based on knowing that we are loved. The Easter story shows us to what lengths Jesus was willing to go to reveal this love and invite us to participate in it.

Each of the member churches of Jubilee School will hold services during Easter and the week leading up to Easter. For our part at Sunday Sunset I would like to invite you to come to our Palm Sunday Service on Sunday 17th of April or our Easter Celebration on Sunday the 24th of April. These services are held at the Ivan Gibbs Centre at Coomera Anglican College every Sunday night between 5 to 7pm. Further details of our services available at www.sundaysunset.org or for other Anglican services on the Gold Coast www.anglicangoldcoast.org

WELL DONE JUBILEE BOYS:

Brayden, Zach, Will, Fintan and Jayden.

All together the boys raised over $2000 for the Leukaemia Foundation to help fund the "Shave for a Cure"

Dear Parents,

Despite the fact schools are very pro-active when it comes to making them safe places for kids, bullying unfortunately, is something that's still with us. According to the 2009 Australian Covert Bullying Prevalence Study one in four kids from Years 4 to 9 experiences some type of bullying at school.

Frequent bullying is highest in Year 5 (32 per cent experiencing some bullying) and Year 8 (29 per cent) so it is something that parents and teachers need to understand.

Bullying is an insidious behaviour that transgresses a child's right to feel safe and secure. It can adversely affect children's learning, further peer relations and their emotional well-being.

Often children will tease, argue and sometimes fight, which shouldn't be confused with bullying.

Bullying is selective and intentional. It's also repetitious rather than a one-off or occasional event. It can be physical, verbal or social exclusion. It also now happens online, which means some kids no longer feel safe at home. Kids generally feel powerless when they experience bullying.

Bullying is an issue to be discussed around the meal table, in the context of keeping kids safe. Talk to kids about their right to feel safe; how to know when they feel unsafe and what to do if they experience or witness bullying.

Knowing when kids are being bullied?

Some research suggests that around 20 per cent of bullying goes unreported so it can be difficult spotting children who experience bullying. However, kids will usually show signs in three ways:

Acting out: outward signs such as displays of unusual aggression at home, talking about hating school and getting into trouble more often.

Acting in: subtle behaviour changes such as sullenness, withdrawing from usual activities, being uncommunicative, feigned illness, bed-wetting and altered sleep patterns.

Telltale signs: more obvious physical signs such as torn clothes, items missing, altered school routes and physical injuries.

Children who are bullied usually display a combination of signs. Children often find it hard to communicate that they are being bullied. Some don't have the language required. Many kids feel ashamed, or even believe what bullies tell them. Sometimes kids are also reluctant to tell adults about bullying, as they fear that they will take the matter out of their hands, so your approach needs to be gentle and non-judgmental.

Here are six things to do if you suspect your child is being bullied:

1. Listen to their story: It really is important to stay calm and get the real story. Kids need to be believed when they are bullied, so make sure they get the chance to talk.
2. Get the facts: Bullying behaviour usually follows patterns. An accurate picture will help you determine your next course of action, for example, whether you need to give your child some avoidance or coping strategies or gain assistance from your child's school.
3. Recognise & validate their feelings (anger, fear & sadness are common): Bullying always elicits strong feelings so make sure kids can share their thoughts and feelings with you.
4. Give them some common coping skills & defense mechanisms: Look for some simple ways to help them handle the bullying such as making sure they stay in pairs, practising a comeback line or even walking and talking confidently.
5. Get the school involved: If your child continues to struggle with bullying contact your child's school. Resist the temptation to confront suspected bullies, or their families. Teachers generally have very practical, tried and true ways to tackle bullying.
6. Help build your child's support networks & their self-confidence:

Positive peer groups are great protective factors for kids when they are bullied so do all you can to encourage and build their friendship groups inside and outside school.

NEW MPC

Yet another example of speaking too soon!

As it stands today (Tuesday), we won't be in until at least Thursday of this week, maybe even into early next week due to a wait on certain building approvals. These were supposed to have been finalised on Monday, but still are not. So we have had to move the photos back to under Block 2.

Hopefully we will still be able to have our first assembly there on Friday and our first P&F Meeting there on Monday, but you will have to 'watch this space'.

SOUTHLAND VISIT

My sincere thanks needs to go to Christine McLeish, Shane Parry, Pastors Brad, Kim, Neil, Mark and the entire Southland Community, the Jubilee Staff, families and students who all joined us last Sunday. It was great to have such a positive and God Centered morning with one of our four Covenant Churches. Thank you to one and all!

A MOMENT'S THOUGHT

"Friends are the most important part of your life. Treasure the tears, treasure the laughter, but most importantly, treasure the memories."

An Inspirational Story - The Gift Of Friendship Is Invaluable

By Byron Pulsifer, © 2011

For many people, friends are a rare commodity and true friends ever more rare. I have said many times before that if you have true friends that amount to the fingers on one hand you are truly blessed. Such was the case of two very special friends who were true to me no matter what happened over the years.

One of these friends was my older sister who I lost a few years ago to cancer and for me was a great sorrow. She was always there for me through all my various issues over the years and I would like to think that I was there for her especially through the last trying years of her life and she bravely fought cancer. Unfortunately, she didn't win but what she never lost was my undying love and affection. I am very grateful that I had the chance to not only be a brother but a friend with her for many, many years. Her presence is still with me and she will never be forgotten for her kindness and devotion to her own family and to me.

I also had the privilege of knowing and being a friend to a special man who I went to university with and who also became the God-parent to one of my sons, in fact, my first born. Now, I'm sure all those males out there who may read this story will testify to is that they have had some great buddies over time and some still have the same good friends from their early school days. Well, I'm sure you appreciate them; at least I hope you do.

For me, I will always remember that fateful day when I received a call from his cousin who told me that he had died. I was in total shock. He was a vibrant person, never sick, no signs of weakness and in fact during our undergrad days we often played handball twice a week for several hours at a time. Barely able to speak, I asked what happened thinking that there may have been a car accident. What I was told totally blew me away - he died of a burst aneurysm. How could this be? A healthy and active person - what cruel fate had lead to the death of a thirty-four year old, seemingly healthy male?

And, to make his loss even more difficult for me, I met his mother for the first time at the funeral. She recounted how often her son talked of our friendship and our fun together. And, to even add further to my despair, I was asked to be one of his pallbearers. I know that this was an honour but at the time I felt a tremendous weight on my shoulders as I carried my friend to the waiting hearse.

To this day, I still don't remember much about that drive to his gravesite even though I was in the car immediately behind the hearse. The only thing I recall is that I stared at the back of the hearse in utter disbelief that it was carrying my friend.

Over the years since, I often recall these special friends that are no longer here and wish that I could have spent more time with them. I often ask myself if I valued their friendship enough, did I really let them know how much they were part of my life? Maybe this is a sentiment that is felt by many people who lose a valuable friend. On the other hand, I can tell you this. I am fortunate to be able to have known them, to have been part of their life and to spend good times with them.

Friendship is a gift, value it!

G'day from the APA

G'day everyone ! A few weeks ago I wrote about not yet being able to see the light at the end of the Term 1 tunnel. Well now, with only 8 school days left to go, the end of term seems to be careering towards us at the speed of light and the finish line is in sight !

I was disappointed to learn yesterday that we won't have official clearance to use the hall in time for this year's school photos. The hall is looking a treat and the facilities are outstanding, but there are some specific approvals that need to be completed before the sign-off can be done and the school take possession of the building.

On a personal note, I'd like to thank the many staff members, parents, grandparents and community members who were asking after my health following my absence in the second half of last week. My discomfort turned out to be caused by a kidney stone, but I'm fine at present. It once again showed that Jubilee is a wonderfully caring community.

Special School Focus: This week we continue our current Special School Focus on the concept of self-control.

"Be in charge of what you do..."

The one controlling you is YOU !"

This means knowing what is the right thing to do and making the choice to do the right thing, no matter what others do or say. It also means thinking before acting and being aware of one's own feelings, especially when one is becoming frustrated, annoyed or angry and not letting those feelings dictate one's behaviour.

School Photos This Week: Today, eldest in the family students were given a School Photo Update letter from me, outlining the arrangements and expectations for photos tomorrow and Thursday. This includes an amended Photo Schedule with some changes from the original, which affect two Yr 1 photo times on Wednesday and our Yr 2, Yr 7 and choir photo times on Thursday. Please read this carefully and ensure that your children are in clean, correct, full school uniform with appropriate hair etc . Parents are reminded that order envelopes with correct money sealed inside are to be brought back by the children on their class photo day please.

Say "Cheese"

Have a great Week 11 everyone !

Regards,

Brian Mason (Assistant Principal, Administration.)

District Sport Information: Congratulations to Ethan Williams who has made it through to the Gold Coast North District Basketball Team. Congratulations also to Blake Scott who has made it through to the next round in selections for Gold Coast North District Touch Football.

Cross Country: The School Cross Country Carnival is just around the corner. Students in years 3 - 7 will compete in their age groups; 2003 born, through to 1998 born. Students born 1998/1999/2000 will complete 3 km. 2001 children will cover 2km and those who were born in 2002 and 2003, will need to run 1 km. The date for this much enjoyed event is Friday the 29th of April. ( YES,THE FIRST FRIDAY OF TERM TWO. )

To help all of our students to prepare for this carnival the following opportunities are presently taking place within the school program.

- Fitness lessons in P.E. at present
- Running Club with Mr. Davies and Mr. Micklejohn is held every Tuesday and Thursday at 7.30 am. Meet at the bottom covered area ready for a half hour of running tips and serious training. Oh, and we make it fun too!
- Daily Fitness is taking place in some of our Year 3 - 7 classes.

SUGGESTIONS FOR YOUR OWN PREPARATION:

- Eat Healthy food Choices.
- Drink Plenty of Water on a regular basis each day.( 1 litre for every 25kg of body weight plus 1 litre for every hour of exercise.)
- Sleep a consistent number of hours for your age group. Close to 9-10 hours per day, is the minimum amount of sleep you need when at Primary school, and even more important you achieve this when adding exercise to your day.
- Exercise 3 times/week. Each session should last for 20 minutes so that you can create a fitness improvement.
- Try to get your heart rate up to 70% of your maximum. Your Maximum heart rate is 220 minus your age. So, for example, if you are 10 years of age, your maximum heart rate is 220 minus 10 = 210 beats per minute. 70% of 210 is 147 beats per minute. So, it is fantastic for fitness improvement if a 10 year old can elevate his/her heart rate to 147 beats per minute and try to hold this for approximately 20 minutes. Do this three times per week and you will be on your way to a much fitter future. Slight variations can be made to this formula for other students of different ages and Mum, Dad and other family members can make use of this formula. Please note, all adults, should consult a physician/family doctor prior to embarking on a new fitness program.
- Who should I train with? Any responsible person, like your parents, club coaches or any responsible adults your parents give you permission to train with.
- Build up gradually. Do a little to begin with and increase distances and length of time you are walking or running , bit by bit.
- Train regularly. Don't leave it to the week before the carnival.
- Wear a hat, sunscreen, protective clothing and always have a water bottle nearby. Remember to train with your parents or someone your parents approve of.
- Have fun, challenge yourself and work on improving your times. You really will find it enjoyable once you get started.

SPEECH AND DRAMA NEWS

What a long term! The final lessons for this term are this week. The length has given us opportunity to settle well into the routine of classes and make progress towards the presentations to come later.

This will include the annual Gold coast Eisteddfod. The entry forms should now be back at school so they can be forwarded to the eisteddfod office prior to the holidays. If you still find yours on the fridge door or lost on the kitchen bench - attend to it immediately - as after the end of this week it may be too late! This could lead to some very disappointed children come September.

Some fees for the term are still outstanding. If this refers to you - payment is expected immediately. Detailed notes were sent last week regarding this.

Classes begin again week two of term two.

This year I hope to celebrate Easter Sunday Mass in St. Pauls Cathedral in London! Alexandra and I wish all our families a wonderful Easter! It has been a very long time since the last holidays - so sit back and take some special time to be together with those you love. A happy and Holy Easter to you all.

Children's Book Council of Australia - Readers Cup Competition

Readers Cup preparation has begun for Grade 7 students. There are 16 students who have nominated for the competition who will eventually become a team of 4 to represent the school at the CBC Readers Cup. These children will have to read a number of novels and picture books and answer questions related to these books. Mr Hannah has been meeting regularly with the children to monitor their reading and understanding of the required readings. We thank the children and the parents for the dedication and time they will take in preparation for this event.

Dear Parents,

‘Stories help us transform the present
and shape the future for our students and ourselves
so that it will be richer or better than the past.’

The reflection above was part of the BCE Executive Director’s message yesterday. The words struck a chord for me on many levels. In particular, I was thinking about our faith story here at Jubilee. This is the story that the children shared with the community at Southland Christian Centre on Sunday. This story celebrates ecumenism; the unified coming together of our four Christian Traditions to celebrate and live our shared belief in Jesus Christ. This is a unique and very special story that celebrates the unity of four churches and a commitment to work together to ensure elements of all traditions are recognised and celebrated.

We thank the community of the Southland Christian Centre for their warm and hospitable welcome to us all on Sunday. We also thank the staff and students of our school for their commitment to sharing and celebrating Jubilee’s unique story at Southland. In particular, we recognise the children and thank them for attending and sharing their talents with the Southland community. I am sure all who were in attendance on Sunday left feeling positive and affirmed by the many blessings we have in being part of the Southland community.

Project Compassion

Project Compassion, Week 5, brings you the story of Kose:

Kose, 26, lives in Samoa. In 2009 a tsunami destroyed his home and belongings.

Within hours of the tsunami, Caritas had mobilised a response through their strong community networks to provide food, safe drinking water, shelter and medical supplies. Since the Tsunami, Caritas has been working with Kose and other community members to rebuild their homes and learn skills to prepare for any future disasters.

Your donation to Project Compassion ensures that, around the world, Caritas is there, working with communities before, during and after the headlines. www.caritas.org.au

In the Gospel story of Lazarus, Jesus is asked to come to the aid of his friend who is sick. When he arrives, Lazarus is dead. Jesus is moved to tears when he sees the grief amongst Lazarus’ family and friends. He calls Lazarus out of the tomb and his life is restored.

The raising of Lazarus strengthened the faith of Jesus’ followers and helped them towards an understanding of Jesus’ words: “I am the Resurrection and the Life”.

Jesus’ human compassion was also evident. We feel compassion when we see people who have been confronted by disaster, tragedy and loss.

Tsunami seems to be a recent frequent addition to our language. In recent years our television screens have vividly informed us of the devastating impact of tsunamis on the lives of millions of people across the globe. This has of course been evidenced in Japan. The Caritas website (www.caritas.org.au) highlights their approach to the tragedy in Japan.

This week’s Project Compassion story comes from Samoa where Kose and his family live in a community that was directly affected by a tsunami. Many were killed. Livelihoods were shattered. Emergency relief was needed in the short term to provide the essentials of life: fresh water, food and shelter. Later, Caritas Samoa, with support from Caritas Australia, worked with the people to rebuild for the long term – to restore life to affected communities.

We might wonder how it felt for Lazarus to rise and learn to live again. In a different sense, that is what communities in Samoa are doing. The media have moved on to other news stories, but Caritas continues to work with people to “build back better”.

Responding to tragedy and loss, as Jesus did, involves more than feeling compassion. We can show our compassion in action by becoming partners in the process of rebuilding and restoring life to communities affected by disaster.

P & F Challenge Cup

Parkwood International Golf Course
Napper Road, Parkwood

Friday 13th May 2011

Can you Imagine a day playing Golf with the Legendary "Tommy Raudonikis"?

That's right, you could win 18 Holes of Golf with this Rugby League Legend at our Charity Golf Day. Tommy Raudonikis is an Australian former footballer & coach. He played over twenty-nine Tests and World Cup games as Australia representative halfback & captained his country in two Tests of the 1973 Kangaroo tour.

And if that wasn't exciting enough, also completing the Team will be our Principal Extraordinary David Sewell & our Distinguished Deputy Principal Brian Mason...

We are holding a "Silent Auction", where if you are the highest winning bidder, you will win 18 holes of Golf at our Charity Golf Day, playing with Tommy, David & Brian

So if you'd like to place a bid in our "Silent Auction" then fill out the form below... Either place it into the locked box in the office or email jubileepandf@yahoo.com. Closing Date is 30th April 2011
